

Cold Inside

Anette Olzon

They told me everything is fine, nothing can hurt me anymore Dark memories from my dreams, I know they are not real but they won't leave me alone

I still can feel the pain, all the heart worse, it goes in my mind

The world I saw through my tears, I know it still exists out there

All my wishes have come true but I still don't know if I can trust you

How can I forget the past when I can feel all of this course
How can I resist to look back, it's all there in my heart
They say: let's move on, it's a new world, the old life is gone
They say I healed a long time ago, so I am still so cold, still so cold inside
Still so cold inside

A spell that won't let go, it doesn't matter how hard I try
They say that evil is far away, but I can feel it, both light and day

trust you

How can I forget the past when I can feel all of this course
How can I resist to look back, it's all there in my heart
They say: let's move on, it's a new world, the old life is gone
They say I healed a long time ago, so I am still so cold, still
so cold inside

How can I forget the past when I can feel all of this course
How can I resist to look back, it's all there in my heart
They say: let's move on, it's a new world, the old life is gone
They say I healed a long time ago, so I am still so cold, still
so cold inside
Still so cold inside

Still so cold inside
