

REPLACE

Anfa Rose

Tell me how you feel
Tell me what you love, say you love Chanel
Done sitting shotgun you wanna take the wheel
See it in your eyes and you hide it well
Don't want no violins

And I'm stubborn too
You like why I always gotta come to you
How you make me feel so damn uncomfortable
And comfortable at the same time

I know for certain
You replaced me in your heart already
But still you can't dead me
I know for certain
You replaced me in your heart already
But still you can't dead me

I know there's a lot that I don't know about ya
Hard to open up when I'm so inconsistent
Played with ya too long now you went found somebody else
Now all of a sudden you acting distance
We don't ever know what we want
Steady loosing breath from the blunt
Honesty is not an option it's a must

And I'm stubborn too
You like why I always gotta come to you
How you make me feel so damn uncomfortable
And comfortable at the same time

I know for certain
You replaced me in your heart already
But still you can't dead me
I know for certain
You replaced me in your heart already
But still you can't dead me
