

Half Of Me

Angel Taylor

Don't want this to be over
Don't wanna run for cover
But inside I'm really shaking
Yeah, I know
That I'm so good at faking
But I don't wanna fake this

Want you to see right through me
But I'm scared if you really knew me
You'd see everything I'm hiding
Behind all these walls I keep on trying
To justify

So I pick apart the pieces that I really like about you
Just so I can find something that I can hate about you
Oh no
Watch you go
And then I'll push you far enough
You're falling off the deep end
Say that we mean nothing but I know I'll just regret it
Oh no
There you go

I wanna stop pretending
And only giving half of me
So sick of barely living
I wanna love with no apologies
Cause you're the second chance I wanna take
No way I'm gonna make the same mistake
Show me a new beginning
And tell me you love all of me

Wish I knew what you were feeling
Or even what you're thinking
Cause these nights just get so lonely
Yeah I know
That he could never hold me
The way you know how to

But it's just so confusing
Cause what you say
Ain't what you're doing
And inside I'm really breaking
Yeah I know
I shouldn't be here waiting
But I'm waiting here anyway

So I pick apart the promises before you even make them
Just so I can feel like I was right when you go break them
Oh no
There we go

I wanna stop pretending
And only giving half of me
So sick of barely living
I wanna love with no apologies
Cause you're the second chance I wanna take

No way I'm gonna make the same mistake
Show me a new beginning
And tell me you love all of me

I wanna give you more than half of me
I wanna give you more than half of me
Wanna give you more than half of me
Cause you're the second chance
I wanna take
No way I'm gonna make the same mistake
Show me a new beginning
And tell me you love all of me
