Someday Soon

Angela Ammons

You wiped away my tears And asked me for a smile I pretended to for a while I said I'd do anything To always be with you You promised me someday soon

But it could never be too soon And I, I always feel you near me Tell me you can hear me Cause baby I still hear you...ohhh

And I know that nothing lasts forever And baby I will never, ever leave this feeling Of loving you When I hear your voice I swear I hear you breathe Your body next to mine holding me

And just when I believed It never has to end Good bye will never come again

Ohhhh, but it always comes again

But it could never be too soon And I, I always feel you near me Tell me you can hear me Cause baby I still hear you...ohhh

And I know that nothing lasts forever And baby I will never, ever leave this feeling Of loving you

Baby I have faith that someday destiny will take its place If I could just hold on, to someday soon

But it could never be too soon And I, I always feel you near me Tell me you can hear me Cause baby I still hear you...ohhh

And I know that nothing lasts forever And baby I will never, ever leave this feeling Of loving you
