Somebody Got Lucky

Angela McCluskey

I was in the moment The terminal endeavor Someone I should have run from I turn back Oh Someone untrue Someone I should have run from stole my soul And took my hands And brought me home You're choosing sides That blow my mind And everywhere you go You got control Aw don't you know Evaporator Somebody Got lucky The terminal invader The diamond I shine my heart on I tremble 000 The diamond is a viper The diamond done stole my home and burned my hide And took my hands And brought me home You're choosing sides That blow my mind And everywhere you go You got control Aw don't you know Evaporator And my world is breaking down You took my hands And brought me home You're choosing sides That blow my mind And everywhere you go You got control Well don't you know I do my time Survive your lies I tremble and sigh But i'm doing fine I know not why You stole my sky I shiver and I cry But i'm doing fine So turn back time Until the moon No longer lies
