Look beyond the stars and see The child of ages came to me It laughed and touched my hand As I crawled the barren land

Forlorn
Is my middle name
Lost and weary
Nothing but a number

Life slips through my fingers For no one knows the truth That we are lost and gone forever Trapped in endless endeavour

Forlorn
Is my middle name
Lost and weary
Nothing but a name

No circling dragons above No false ideas about love No chains to break No freedom to take No false ideas about love

Look beyond the stars and see The child of ages came to me It laughed and touched my hand As I crawled the barren land

Forlorn
Is my middle name
Lost and weary
Nothing but a name

No circling dragons above No false ideas about love No chains to break No freedom to take No false ideas about love
