

Waiting Hating

Angelic Upstarts

I've been waiting for five years
Nothin' yet to belay my fears
Sometimes so unreal
But still searching for the truth

I've been waiting I've been hating
But where can we go, it's so unreal
I've been waiting I've been hating
They'll never change

There was a king there was a queen
And when it added up it's all the same
They can love you with a look
But treason is the breath you took

Sit up and smile it's our acceptance
That breeds a lie I believe in joy
And if this is not the answer
There's something I'm still looking for
