

Home Town

Angelo De Augustine

Hoping there's love down the line
Praying for peace in this life
All my heart beats for you
Our home town taken down too

Red lights on the borderline
Thirteen ghosts walk into the night
All my heart breaks for you
Our home town taken down too

There's no sense anymore
And no one left to blame
I feel responsible
Just as we all may be

Heartless imposing desire
There's no hope, just eternal fire
All my heart burns for you
My home town taken down too
