

Timebomb

Angels & Airwaves

You seem like you're having fun
And this world it can't hurt no one
But there's wonder behind those eyes
When you seem like your acting fine
But tonight you're the chosen one
Letting those wildest young horses run
Letting the wind blow through broken glass
Washing ashore with no life in the raft

Hey there little sad girl
I really want to hold you
Your heart is like time bomb
And it's going to start to kill you
But in such a very sad world
There are still things to discover
It's possible to hang on
'Cause your story isn't over

You are an accident waiting to happen
Revenge doesn't work if we're laughing
There's danger so close to that edge
Prettiest thing left here laid on the bed

Hey there little sad girl
I really want to hold you
Your heart is like time bomb
And it's going to start to kill you
But in such a very sad world
There are still things to discover
It's possible to hang on
'Cause your story isn't over

Hey there little sad girl
I really want to hold you
Your heart is like time bomb
And it's going to start to kill you
But in such a very sad world
There are still things to discover
It's possible to hang on
'Cause your story isn't over
Hey there little sad girl
I really want to hold you
Your heart is like time bomb
And it's going to start to kill you
But in such a very sad world
There are still things to discover
It's possible to hang on
'Cause your story isn't over
