

Betrayed

Angelus Apatrida

You are the chosen one
Left the world in darkness
The sacred solution to inter press us
Like the crystal in my eye
You was forsaken
My world betrayed by my own brother

Here against the companion mistaken
Venemous confusion, hatred
Back light out, screaming shadows
Fire burned down
Footprints start to abyss
You were my brother

Here come the signs over my head
As I was watching over you
The weary fence put back to emotion
Your eyes gave you away
I've learned my sorry for my youth
Your treachery won't last forever

As we saw your last decline
You're free of passion
First to power
Let me take you to instant minds
For less destruction

Back light out, screaming shadows
Fire burned down
Footprints start to abyss
You were my brother

Here come the signs over my head
As I was watching over you
The weary fence put back to emotion
Your eyes gave you away
I've learned my sorry for my youth
Your treachery won't last forever

Here come the signs over my head
As I was watching over you
The weary fence put back to emotion
Your eyes gave you away
I've learned my sorry for my youth
Your treachery won't last forever

Here come the signs over my head
As I was watching over you
The weary fence put back to emotion
Your eyes gave you away
I've learned my sorry for my youth
Your treachery won't last forever
