

Indoctrinate

Angelus Apatrida

Moving like a leech
Your talk smells like shit
Another day in the office
This ain't gonna be the same
In any fucking way
Just give me a reason to take a break
You're making us more violent
You're trying all our patience
Why always heading straight?
Is it part of their game?
That is what they have to say, don't listen!

Indoctrinate / through fear then / dominate
Indoctrinate / one true faith / inculcate
Predominate / strong voices will be heard
Intoxicate / snake tongues to / indoctrinate

Fuck what you preach
Your dictatorial speech
A bloody lesson to teach
Here are your dogs to tame
Walking the hall of fame
Drudge of the aryan race
Through noises we make silence
By war our flag of guidance
Wish all of them would die
You're motherfucking right
This is what I have to say, listen!

Indoctrinate / through fear then / dominate
Intoxicate / snake tongues to / indoctrinate

Time has come to fight, unearth what was lost
As hatred (and) unreason are becoming one
My breath, my soul, forget what you've learned
And take back what's ours once and for all

Build it through destruction
A new born paradigm
A fire with old certainties
Bringing a true solution
From chaos to declare the Revolution

Revolt! Revolution!

Time has come to fight, unearth what was lost
As hatred (and) unreason are becoming one
My breath, my soul, forget what you've learned
And take back what's ours once and for all

Once and for all!
There are still thousands of enemies to tear apart

Risk just comes with the territory
Wasn't this what you were asking for?
This is all the moral of the story
Inaction is a fate worse than death
