

The Age of Disinformation

Angelus Apatrida

It's way beyond the conscience
What you feel ain't what you see
No matter what you do the odd becomes reality
Destruction, extinction of this material world
Slaves, dependents, victims of technology
Exposed to a world of lies
Living through the age of disinformation
It's all about the fake the more you get the less you read
Your happiness increases as you are being deceived
Repeat lies, create ties, the perfect propaganda

Slaves, abused brains, betrayed by society
Exposed to a world of lies
Living through the age of disinformation
Waking up from the slumber
Reflect the illusion of truth
Voices of recurring nightmares
Wasted life as part of the big lie
Spread a rumor, then repeat it then just wait and see
No point in refuting it, the hoax gets all veracity
Captured tales fall into place
Fuel for the meekness
Slaves, dependents, victims of technology
Exposed to a world of lies
Living through the age of disinformation
