Remember the first time you've faced the dark Why were you so afraid? Hiding so many secrets inside When fears have got to be tamed I promise I'll still be there To keep my promise I'll still be there To watch over dreams at night And follow you through the day You shot the doors but I'm right behind Where shadows remain I promise I'll still be there To say I promise I 'll still be there Don't ask me why we'll be like brothers Skating on the ice of mortal loneliness Live and learn with your mind Find a way out of madness You dream on (of) paradise Who's gonna take you there
