Platforms

Ani DiFranco

Life knocked me off my platforms So I pulled out my first pair of boots Bought on the street at astor place Before New York was run by suits And I suited up for the long walk Back to myself Closer to the ground now With sorrow And stealth