

Before You Were Cool

Anja Nissen

You liked to watch The Notebook on a Saturday night
Call your mama just to make sure, that she's feeling all right
Always clean up after dinner, and you're really polite
I like that
I like that
I love the way you'd always
Wanna open my door
And your tiny little lisp
That's kind of hard to ignore
You liked to write me letters
Saying, baby I'm truly yours
I like that
I like that

That's how it used to be
Now you're just somebody
Trying hard to please
That's how it used to be
But now I'm not that into you

I liked you before you were cool
I liked you before you were cool
I used to like the things that you'd do
Yeah, I liked you before you were cool
Cool, cool, cool
I liked you before you were cool, cool, cool

Never used to think about the things that you'd wear
So I wouldn't even worry about fixing my hair

We were broke, but we could dream
About becoming millionaires
I like that
I like that

That's how it used to be
Now you're just somebody
Trying hard to please
That's how it used to be
But now I'm not that into you

I liked you before you were cool
I liked you before you were cool
I used to like the things that you'd do
Yeah, I liked you before you were cool, cool, cool
Cool, cool, cool
I liked you before you were cool, cool, cool

That's how it used to be
Now you're just somebody
Trying hard to please, yeah
That's how it used to be
But now I'm not that into you

I liked you before you were cool
I liked you before you were cool
I used to like the things that you'd do

Yeah, I liked you before you were cool, cool, cool
Cool, cool, cool
I liked you before you were cool, cool, cool
