

Do Better

Anjolie

Don't tell me how you feeling
Don't tell me you regret
All the bad things you've done and
All the good girls you left
Don't tell me I'm the only one
Best thing you never had
Like the river run red
Like the songs that we sang
Like the feel of the sheets on my bed

Why you only want me when you drunk?
Why you only want me when you high?
Baby, you do better when you sober
Baby, you do better when you, why
Why you only want me when you drunk?
Why you only call me when you high?
Baby, you do better when you sober
Baby, you do better when you

Come back when you, come back when you
Come back when you treat me right
Come back when you, come back when you
Come back when you're worth the fight
Baby you could do better when you, better when you
Baby you could do better when you, better when you
Baby you could do better when you, better when you
Come back when you're worth the fight

Don't tell me you're in pain now
Don't tell me that you're broken
That you're coming to Jesus
That you're driving back home, eh
Don't tell me I'm the only one
Take the chill from your bone
Now you're bleeding and bruised
Your ego's been used
For some stupid game you couldn't refuse

Why you only want me when you drunk?
Why you only want me when you high?
Baby, you do better when you sober
Baby, you do better when you, why
Why you only want me when you drunk?
Why you only call me when you high?
Baby, you do better when you sober
Baby, you do better when you

Come back when you, come back when you
Come back when you treat me right
Come back when you, come back when you
Come back when you're worth the fight
Baby you could do better when you, better when you
Baby you could do better when you, better when you
Baby you could do better when you, better when you
Come back when you're worth the fight
