Decline

Ann Marie

You make it difficult for me to leave you alone
It's like everywhere I go, they always mention you
I tried to let you go, but you always fall back through
I seen this shit before, ain't nothing changed with you
You say you sorry now, then turn around and do it all again
If I knew then what I knew now, we wouldn't never begin
And it's crazy 'cause at one point I thought you were my best friend
All them feelings that I had for you over, boy, that shit dead

You had me thinking you was different when you wasn't
You made me feel like it was something when it's nothing
You say you sorry, but sorry, it ain't enough this time
So when you call me, I see that shit and just press decline
Fuck up off my line
Tired of you wasting my time
All you do is tell me lies
So I just press decline (Decline)
So I just press decline, decline

Everywhere I go I hear your name
I just can't help but wonder which one of us to blame
You say you just not ready for love, so you claim
Told you 'bout my past, you promised not to do the same, same
But you did
Say you a real nigga, but you ain't, you be actin' like a bitch
Say that you can handle me but you really can't
'Cause you don't know what to do with a real bitch
Now you in your feelings, know you feel this (This)
You realize I was the one
You no longer gotta wonder
Your call ain't come through 'cause I changed my number, yeah

You had me thinking you was different when you wasn't (You had me)
You made me feel like it was something when it's nothing (It wasn't nothin')
You say you sorry, but sorry, it ain't enough this time (It ain't enough, no way)
So when you call me, I see that shit and just press decline
Fuck up off my line
Tired of you wasting my time
All you do is tell me lies
So I just press decline (Decline)
So I just press decline, decline

Fuck a nigga like you
Promise I'll never trust a nigga like you
I will never love another nigga like you
'Cause I already met a couple niggas like you
Bitch, you a clown, fuck off my line
I don't got time to be wasting my time
Say you a real nigga, but you always lying
So when you call me, I just press decline, decline
Decline
Decline, decline
