Generation Gap Between Us

Ann Peebles

That the generation gap between us
We can't get along no more
That the generation gap between us
We can't get along like before

I gave you all my loving
You said it ain't good enough
I did everything your way, baby
You said it ain't good enough
You keep me in the house night and day
You whipped me every time I leave

And it just won't work out, baby
(Baby, won't work out)
It just won't work out no

That the generation gap between us
We can't get along no more
That the generation gap between us
We can't get along like before

They said a true sign of love is trust now
You on my back all the time
You used to have trust in me, baby
I wonder what changed your mind
You ask more question than the FBI
You treat me just like I'm a slave

And it just won't work out, baby
(Baby, won't work out)
It just won't work out no

That the generation gap between us
We can't get along no more
I tell that the generation gap between us
We can't get along no more
That the generation gap between us
We can't get along no more
