

Every Time The Rain Comes Down

Anna Blue

And every time the rain comes down,
You'll know that I'm the one who'll be around.

You're fighting a demon,
Your heart keeps on beating,
You're feeling so close to the edge
(Don't jump).
You're losing your temper,
You want to surrender,
I'm talking you down off the ledge
(Come take my hand).
You won't go lonely into this fight,
If you just hold me we will survive.

Every time the rain comes down
(When the rain comes down),
I'm the one who'll be around
(The one who'll be around),
I'll become a part of you and share your pain.
Every time the rain comes down
(When the rain comes down),
I'ma lift you off the ground
(I'll lift you off the ground),
Gonna grab your hand and take you far away.

Every time the rain comes down.
Every time the rain comes down.

All your tears are in vain,
And it drives you insane,
'Cause nobody cares if you cry
(But I'll be there).
Deep inside there's a riot,
I feel that you're tired,
You don't wanna live a lie
(I'm there for you).
You won't go lonely into this fight,
If you just hold me we will survive.

Every time the rain comes down
(When the rain comes down),
I'm the one who'll be around
(The one who'll be around),
I'll become a part of you and share your pain.
Every time the rain comes down
(When the rain comes down),
I'ma lift you off the ground
(I'll lift you off the ground),
Gonna grab your hand and take you far away.

Every time the rain comes down.
Every time the rain comes down.

And every time the rain comes down,
You know that I'm the one who'll be around.

Every time the rain comes down

(When the rain comes down),
I'm the one who'll be around
(The one who'll be around),
I'll become a part of you and share your pain.
Every time the rain comes down
(When the rain comes down),
I'ma lift you off the ground
(I'll lift you off the ground),
Gonna grab your hand and take you far away.

Every time the rain comes down.
Every time the rain comes down.
