

Everybody Cries Sometimes

Anna Blue

You're a rock, standing strong
You're somebody else's home
You never fail, you're always tough
You are there when times get rough

(I feel you)
How your guard slowly breaks apart
(I see you)
I see it deep inside your heart

It's alright to feel hurt
And to share it with the world
Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes
It's okay, let it out
The pain that makes you wanna shout
Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes

Everybody cries sometimes
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

You reassure when danger's near
You never show a sign of fear
You stand the ground when others don't
You're a fortress built of stone

(I feel you)
How your guard slowly breaks apart
(I see you)
I see you deep inside your heart

It's alright to feel hurt
And to share it with the world
Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes
It's okay, let it out
The pain that makes you wanna shout
Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes

And if you want, you gotta friend (you gotta friend)
Let me take a piece of your burden off your shoulders

It's alright to feel hurt
And to share it with the world
Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes
It's okay, let it out
The pain that makes you wanna shout
Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes

Everybody cries sometimes
Everybody cries sometimes
