

Goodbye

Anna Clendening

Thought you had a good one til they found somebody new
But instead of leaving they stayed around with you
Holding your heart while they hold another hand
A sad excuse for a woman or a man because

Can't have another when you have a lover by your side
Can't give up your heart when it's already occupied
If you've got a good one, don't give em up for greed
If that's not enough then baby

Just leave
You'll never know the pieces you leave behind
Just leave
If you stay around and live a lie
Just leave
Let it go if you're not satisfied
Just leave, just leave, just leave
Walk away and say goodbye
And say goodbye

You say you didn't know how to tell him
You didn't have the chance, well I call that bullshit
In less than a minute a woman, I think so
Can't have another without letting go
Of the one that you're currently singing I you love to
You should be ashamed of what you do
Because true love exists between a pair
Throw another one in that just isn't fair
Oh that just isn't fair because

Can't have another when you have a lover by your side
Can't give up your heart when it's already occupied
If you've got a good one, don't give em up for greed
If that's not enough then baby

Just leave
You'll never know the pieces you leave behind
Just leave
If you stay around and live a lie
Just leave
Let it go if you're not satisfied
Just leave, just leave, just leave
Walk away and say goodbye
And say goodbye

Just leave
You'll never know the pieces you leave behind
Just leave
If you stay around and live a lie
Just leave
Let it go if you're not satisfied
Just leave, just leave, just leave
Walk away and say goodbye
And say goodbye

Because you can't have another while you have a lover by your side
Can't give up your heart when it's already occupied

If you've got a good one, don't give it up for greed
If that's not enough well then fuck you, just leave□
