

Wrong

Anna Clendening

Here I go again
Lights out on the floor again, I'm Halfway through the worst of this, I feel like I'm caving in
So I hit you with a text, late night 'cause I'm losing it, I Can't fight when I'm feeling this, right back into you again

We learned to hurt, hurting each other
Made our mistakes when we were younger
We know we're no good for each other
But that don't stop me when I feel like this

I know, I know, I know, I know how this goes
I end up beside you, it always feels so right when things go wrong
But it's too good, too good to let go
I just don't why it always feels so right when things go wrong

You're my safety net
When it falls underneath, and I'm
Single but don't wanna be, and heartbreaks got the worst of me
We never got it right
Five years and we still go back
We're toxic and we both know that
Made friends with the red flags, oh-oh

We learned to hurt, hurting each other (Hurting each other)
Made our mistakes when we were younger (We were younger)
We know we're no good for each other
But that don't stop me when I feel like this

I know, I know, I know, I know how this goes
I end up beside you, it always feels so right when things go wrong
But it's too good, too good to let go
I just don't why it always feels so right when things go

You're my go to, when I go through my breakups and breakdowns
Then find someone new, forget about you
I move on and you move on too
We dated young, we hated young
I left you and you should have run
We're both to blame, we feel the same
We're still doing the same things

We learned to hurt, hurting each other
But that don't stop me when I feel like this

I know, I know, I know, I know how this goes
I end up beside you, it always feels so right when things go wrong
But it's too good, too good to let go
I just don't why it always feels so right when things go wrong (Things go wrong)
When things go wrong

You always feels so right when things go wrong
