

Have I Told You

Anna Graceman

I'm just a silly girl, in a silly world
So many faces. So disgraced - yes
I'm not gonna fall in again, my friend
I'm not gonna make that mistake again

Have I told you I love the way you smile at me
Have I told you I love the way you laugh at my mistakes
Have I told you I love you... yah

I know you think that we're just friends
And that we would be till the end
I'm not sure what I'm looking for
But baby I want more

Have I told you I love the way your blue eyes shines
Have I told you I love the way your hair falls in your face
Have I told you I love you

Keep your hands on the wheel
And your eyes looking ahead
I wish that I could tell you everything that's in my head
Like Have I told you I love the way you smile at me

Have I told you I love the way you laugh at my mistakes
Have I told you
Have I told you I love the way your blue eyes shines
Have I told you I love the way your hair falls in your face
Have I told you
Have I told you I love the way you say my name
Have I told you that just one look from you drives me insane
Have I told you
Have I told you I wish that I could tell you every thing
Have I told you that everything I've said is meant to be
Have I told you I love you
