

Memories

Anna Graceman

Memories touch so slow
But I remember you so well
I remember how we'd dance
Full of life and full of chance
Yes, you and me we used to run this town
Now memories touch so slow
They ebb and flow

I see us in the distance
And you, you got a halo
You're slipping through my fingers
Still I try to hold on tight to you

I'm almost floating
Thinking of you next to me
And you are an ocean
Got me drowning in the deep

Memories touch so slow
But I remember you so well
I remember how we'd dance
Full of life and full of chance
Yes, you and me we used to run this town
Now memories touch so slow
They ebb and flow
