

Rumor Red

Anna Graceman

I hear the people talk, they like to run their mouth
But then I hear 'em say you've been running all over town
I'm finally waking up, I've always had my doubts
That you've been keeping little secrets from me for a while

Spent way too long ignoring all of the warning signs
Another writing's on the wall, there's no way to hide

I'm gonna paint that rumor red, rumor red
There ain't no subtle way about it, oh oh
Those words can never be unsaid, be unsaid
So I'ma scream and I'ma shout it, oh oh
Played me for a fool but it's about to get real
Paint that rumor red, that's how you know how it feels

Oh I'll be making sure you regret all your games
Wanted attention but now nobody will look away
Keep telling all those lies won't get you very far
The truth is out and everyone knows who you really are

Spent way too long ignoring all of the warning signs
Another writing's on the wall, there's no way to hide

I'm gonna paint that rumor red, rumor red
There ain't no subtle way about it, oh oh
Those words can never be unsaid, be unsaid
So I'ma scream and I'ma shout it, oh oh
Played me for a fool but it's about to get real
Paint that rumor red, that's how you know how it feels
Don't forget, don't forget oh oh
I'll paint that rumor red, that's how you know how it feels

Rumor red, rumor red
Rumor red, rumor red
Rumor red, rumor red
I'm gonna paint that rumor red

I'm gonna paint that rumor red, rumor red
There ain't no subtle way about it, oh oh
Those words can never be unsaid, be unsaid
So I'ma scream and I'ma shout it, oh oh
Played me for a fool but it's about to get real
Paint that rumor red, that's how you know how it feels
Don't forget, don't forget oh oh
I'll paint that rumor red, that's how you know how it feels
