

Once

Anna Leone

Once, I was naïve enough to stare into
The sun, oh once
I had a dream
I had a dream

I forgot what I used to like about me
I've fallen before and that's hurt me
I forgot who I used to be when things were easy
I forgot what you meant to me, oh

Once, I had to choose between surrender
And denial, oh once
I held your hand in mine
I held your hand in mine
Oh once
Ooh once

I never gave you any reasons
I always built another wall
And here I am again, I'm making all the same mistakes
And it's all my fault

Oh once, I was naïve enough to stare into
The sun, oh once
I had a dream
I had a dream
Oh once
Oh once
Ooh once
Ooh once
Ooh once
