

Remember

Anna Leone

I remember days when every word was kind
I remember tears, they never seemed to dry
I heard you laugh, and I heard you cry
I know you wished for a different fight
I remember hoping you'd forgive your mind

Did you lie to me in your sleep?
Did you lie to me in your sleep?
Did you lie to me in your sleep?
You said you'd believe

I know you were thinking of what could've been
I know you were wondering how to let me in
I heard you laugh, and I heard you cry
You never told me about your life
But I caught you whispering in the night

Did you lie to me in your sleep?
Did you rewrite all of your rules?
Did you tell me something untrue?
You said you'd believe

Even saw you look at the moon
Even saw you turn in my room

Did you lie to me in your sleep?
Did you lie to me in your sleep?
Did you lie to me in your sleep?
You said you'd believe