

Wondering

Anna Leone

Walked through the woods today
Round in an endless maze
I spent a lot of time on you

I couldn't own my worth
'Cause everything I had learned
I tried to hide it all from you

That broke my heart
In two
That broke my heart
In two

I count my every move
There's so much I want to do
And I've never felt this way before

I know you're wondering why
Know you're wondering how I feel
When I don't speak my truth

Well, I felt the wind, it blew
And I could've sworn I flew
Why can't it always be that way?

I know you're wondering why
Know you're wondering how I feel
When I don't speak my truth
My truth
