

Here's To Another

Anna of the North

Another night out
I thought I saw your face under bright lights
You know that I'm shy
Would you stop to say hello or just walk by?

I know I said I hate you
But I promise I will always keep your secrets
And I mean it
I know that it might hurt for me
But I don't really care about my feelings
No

Take me back to where we started
We don't have to talk about it
You and I, we know what's up
Here's to fucking up another night
Another year, another girl
(Here's to fucking up another)

I see that she's here
So effortlessly looking like she don't care
I guess it's okay
I never was your number one to replay

I know I said I hate you
But I promise I will always keep your secrets
And I mean it
I know that it might hurt for me
But I don't really care about my feelings
They're just feelings

Take me back to where we started
We don't have to talk about it
You and I, we know what's up
Here's to fucking up another night
Another year, another girl
(here's to fucking up another night)

Another night, another year, another girl
Here's to fucking up another night
Another year, another girl
Here's to fucking up another night

Take me back to where we started
We don't have to talk about it
You and I, we know what's up
Here's to fucking up another

Take me back to where we started
We don't have to talk about it
You and I, we know what's up
Here's to fucking up another night
Another year, another girl
