

Without You

Anne Murray

Alone tonight with the radio on
World is moving so slow
You and I gave a goodbye kiss
How it happened god only knows

You looked at me with your heart beside
Slowly whispered my name
I never saw how the the wind blew in
'Til after it blew out the flame
I try not to think much about you
I'm trying to learn to live

Without you, to love me
Without you, to touch me
Without you, I do the best that I can
Without you, it's lonely
Without you, it's only
Without you, that I don't who I am

So now I walk through a frozen world
'Cause I can't seem to forget
The part of you that's still part of me
Should have looked before I left
I try not to think much about you
I'm trying to learn to live

Without you, to love me
Without you, to touch me
Without you, I do the best that I can
Without you, it's lonely
Without you, it's only
Without you, that I don't who I am

Without you, to love me
Without you, to touch me
Without you, I do the best that I can
Without you, it's lonely
Without you, it's only
Without you, that I don't who I am

Without you, to love me
Without you, to touch me
Without you, I do the best that I can
Without you, it's lonely
Without you, it's only
Without you, that I don't who I am
