

Pearly

Anneke van Giersbergen

Asleep in pearly white sheets
My shirt is dirty:
Stains of milk and longing
Colour my door lovingly

You don't really know me
I've watched you all morning
Every word you're saying
This girl does not understand

A stranger in early sunlight
My urge is flirting
Trails of milk and honey
Colour my floors lovingly

You don't really know me
I've watched you all morning
Every word you're saying
This girl does not understand

You don't really know me
You read the news everyday
I watch every morning
Not hearing all that you say
