

My Heart Became of Age

Annette Funicello

Used to date at least a dozen boys
I was quite the high school rage
But when I met you
All at once I knew
That my heart became of age

I was sure it wasn't puppy love
I was way beyond that stage
Something deep inside
Couldn't be denied, yes
My heart became of age
The time had come
For true romance
Not just another fling
My heart told me
Don't miss your chance

This is the real thing

Now I know
That in your book of love
I was just another page
When you said we're through
Through my tears, I knew
That my heart became of age

Now I know
That in your book of love
I was just another page
When you said we're through
Through my tears, I knew
That my heart became of age
