

A Sarcastic Hello

Anni B Sweet

I wonder why the mixture of two compounds must have something in common so they can work out.
I can't get in my head
why answers can't be questions or questions could be answers to my insane head.
I get desperate when I wake up in the morning
And I See a big neon that says:

Work it out!
And I said good morning hello hello hello
Good morning! Hello hello hello!

I love to see the sunset while I'm sitting in my couch
And I like to see people walk by Everything seems to be so calm and so right
Until turn on the news and guess what?
A hundred people dying or a heavy rain has come and took away their home

Work it out!...

Hello! hello oh! hello oah! hello oh!
