

The Other Side

Annihilator

I thought I had it all, livin' the dream
The perfect union, or so it seemed
Eternal commitment, sealed with a kiss
But you said you loved me, with an open fist

The anger the rage, locked trapped in this cage
It happens again and again
The violence and force, denial of course
The time cycle has come for an end

The other side
So fucking tired

So fucking tired of being told what to do
Don't need your blackmail, and I don't need you
Blood dripping from the head, hit with the phone
Again the sirens wail, and you call this home?

The other side

Condition critical, you turn and run
Run! to another victim, continue what you've done
Violence is justified, in your twisted head
Someday someone will end up dead
