

Savior

Annika Rose

You're so cynical
Oh, but don't you know it though?
'Cause, yeah, I told you so
And now it's getting old
Oh, I wanted you to see
The potential of your company
But now you look at me as someone you don't need

Only want me around when your insecurities are loud
You think I can clean your name
You think I can be your change

But I won't be your savior, anchor
Hold you down when you need me the most
For you to go off, make love
With the power I gave you to grow
In all your future endeavors
All your future forevers
No, I won't be savior
I won't be your savior, angel
Hold you up at your lowest of lows
For you to take off with my trust
And the power I gave you to hold
In all your future endeavors
All your future forevers
No, I won't be savior
