

Tiny Dynamite

Annika Rose

You said "I want you just the way you are"
I guess you didn't really mean it
Beginnings aren't always the hardest part
But I guess it takes time to see it

I've been working fishing lines
Well men didn't compromise
I wonder who am I through your eyes
You want me at my best
But only at my best
Don't know what that is yet but I died

You don't treat me like a person
As somebody you know at all
I'm just tiny dynamite
That you don't know how to light
You don't make me feel deserving
You don't make me feel at all
I'm just tiny dynamite
That you don't know how to light
And you're counting down the days till I blow up

Take me to your castle in the sky
Tell me I'm your best kept secret
Maybe there's a world for you and I
If only I could make you believe it

You've been pulling at my strings
Since 2018
You've been tempting me with a good time
Said you'd give me everything
Still don't know what that means
So I'll be coming clear for the last time

You don't treat me like a person
As somebody you know at all
I'm just tiny dynamite
That you don't know how to light
You don't make me feel deserving
You don't make me feel at all
I'm just tiny dynamite
That you don't know how to light
And you're counting down the days till I blow up

I'm a grain of sand
In your tiny hands
I've got bigger plans
Than you
Not a paper doll
On your concrete wall
You can't make me dance
For you

'Cause I'm tiny dynamite
That you don't know how to light
And I'm counting down the days till I blow up
