

Inner Sanctum

Annisokay

Precious moments passed by without a sound
I try to keep them like a treasure below the ground
Encapsulating, all the good that I can find
'Cause in this darkness only secrets will survive

When our hearts collide
With darkness' tide
As they're falling through the skies
Like blossoms they'll be

My inner sanctum
Somewhere within the clouds
For no one to reach it
A silent haven for my soul

They will never take me alive from this world
I will define the time and place
You will always be with me in my mind
And only secrets will survive

When our hearts collide
With darkness' tide
As they're falling through the skies
Like blossoms they'll be
Falling, falling
From the heights that we have known
We'll be far away, far away
From the place that we call home

Inner sanctum
Inner sanctum
Burn, scorch the surface
Decay but our treasure will survive

When our hearts collide
With darkness' tide
As they're falling through the skies
Like blossoms they'll be
Falling, falling
From the heights that we have known
We'll be far away, far away
From the place that we call home
