

Broken Again

Another Animal

There's my dreams
Bloody, dying, face down to the floor
I can't relieve the emptiness
Struggle all alone to fight my war

Day by day
I feel it slippin' away
The more I stumble
The more I fade away

All the things you try to hide
And every time you had to lie
I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break
I'm broken again

Nothing
Seem to be just what I've become
With every ounce of faith I give
Still feel it all coming undone

Day by day
I feel you slippin' away
The more I crumble
The more I need to pray

All the things you try to hide
And every time you had to lie
I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break
I'm broken again

You can't break me (You can't break me)
You can't break me (You can't break me)
You can't break me
You can't break me
You can't break me
Yeah yeah yeah

All the things you try to hide
And every time you had to lie
I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break
I'm broken again

All the things you try to hide
And every time you had to lie
I'm broken
Every smile I had to fake
And every time I want to break
I'm broken again

You can't break me
You can't break me
You can't break me
Yeah yeah yeah
