

Pull Me Under

Another Day Dawns

Is anybody out there?

Anyone at all?

This world is so persistent, I'm trying not to fold

I take my medication, to make it through the day
I'm faking a religion, to make me feel okay...
(I'm not like you)

You hold me closer

Just to push me further, you did it first

You hold me under, just to let me drown

Just to let me down again

Face down, I lie... but I'm alive

Take my medication

Make it through the day

Start a new religion so you can take my name in vain

(I'm not like you)

You hold me closer

Just to push me further, you did it first

You hold me under, just to let me drown

Just to let me down again

Pull me under, pull me under, pull me under

Just to let me down again

Pull me under, pull me under, pull me under

Just to let me down again

Push, pull I'm already out

But how many times did you come around?

Showing off your new and fancy things

Acting like you gave me the right to be... ME

Pull me under!

You hold me closer

Just to push me further, you did it first

You hold me under, just to let me drown

Just to let me down again

Pull me under, pull me under, pull me under

Just to let me down again

Pull me under, pull me under, pull me under

Just to let me down again
