

Behind Your Words

Anouk

I am scared that you will leave me someday
And you won't be around no more
Sooner or later there will come a day
And you'll decide to leave me like before

I'll try to find a way to get things done
And offer things that life no longer does

Your hurtful words, they'll enter my mind
And even though it hurts, I will leave it alone this time
'Cause behind your words, behind your words
I know there's still love on your mind

From the day I set my eyes on you, I fell in love
You make me laugh, when I cry
You always brighten up my bleak and shady heart
Don't take away this sunshine

And make me find a way to get things done
And offer things that life no longer does

Your hurtful words, they will enter my mind
And even though it hurts, I will leave it alone this time
'Cause behind your words, behind those words
I know there's still love on your mind
