

Blue Motel

Anouk

By now I've realized my head knocks against the stars
I've been to hell and back, after I wondered where we belong
Spreading all this dirty lie, have we found us rolling by
He sheds light to my stars, now what about judgement
Will there ever be an heaven where we both can stay?

Blue motel
I'm in some far-off
Blue motel
A distant place
Blue motel
And all I am taught
Blue motel
Is a friendly face, hey

It feels good to know, although one will never be
You're looking at the same stars on this lonely planet with me
Will there ever be a church where we both feel free?

Blue motel
I'm in some far-off
Blue motel
Oh, a distant place
Blue motel
And all I am taught
Blue motel
Hey, is just a friendly face

To bring in the light
But my heart somehow prays
For yet another night
In this...
In this...
Blue, blue, blue, blue

Blue motel
Blue motel
Blue motel
Blue motel
Blue motel
Blue motel
