

Can't Fix Repeaters

Anouk

I'm sick and tired of the superficial
The more I know, there is not much to lose after all
Your fake ass praise I will never accept
Now let me say it louder for the ones in the back

Can't fix repeaters
Forgive me and my manners, I'd rather be alone
Can't fix repeaters
There'll be humiliation when the truth is being shown
'Cause

Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light, light

Good guys aren't all good
Vanity is a rarity
They always seem to come out on top
Keep on crawling through the sand
Drowning on this dry land
Finally they'll shed the last drop

Can't fix repeaters
Forgive me and my manners, I'd rather be alone
Can't fix repeaters
There'll be humiliation when the truth is being shown
'Cause

Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light, light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light, light

Sometimes people can't help it
I quietly walk away
Sometimes people can't help it
I quietly walk away

Sometimes people can't help it
Sometimes people can't help it
Sometimes people can't help it
I quietly walk away, yeah

Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light, light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light, light
Everything that starts in the dark, yeah will come to the light, light

Sometimes
Sick and tired
Sick and tired