

Something Better

Anouk

Please make me laugh to stop me from crying
I found myself bleeding in silence
When did things change so much

Shallow emotions, my mind is numb
The screams in my dreams have made me become Aware I'd rather walk alone
And find my soul a home

So that nothing, no nothing
No nothing can hurt me anymore
Please give me something, oh give me something, yeah
Give me something way better than before

Winter chills were on my mind
These storms of life, I've left them behind
A chance to start anew
Where my dreams can come true

So that nothing, no nothing
No nothing can hurt me anymore
Please give me something, oh give me something, yeah
Give me something way better than before

There's too little love and my days are grey
And I wanna lift all these clouds away
I'm reaching my hands to the darkest skies
'Cause I am too tired of tears streaming from my eyes

Oh nothing, no nothing
No nothing can hurt me anymore
Please give me something, yeah, give me something, yeah
Give me something way better than before
