

Apology

Ant & Dec

I'm sorry I didn't mean to hurt you baby, it's true
I love you, I need you, I'm searching the world for you

Summer love we were hot left me cold,
You won't forgive the stories you've been told
Deep hurt I can understand why,
I did try but sense just passed me by
It was stupid, cupid lend me your bow,
So I can save the love that I let go
This pain won't refrain in my brain,
You don't believe that I didn't know her name
Apologetic - pathetic, the urge came and I let it
It destroyed a hard built trust,
I'm on my knees but it's just not good enough

Summers come and summers go guilty feelings overflow
Outrageous, behavior, little boy your life's in danger

I'm sorry I didn't mean to hurt you baby,
It's true (this is my apology)
I love you, I need you, I'm searching the world for you
Forgive me, you know how much I need you baby (this is my apology)
I love you, forever, 'cause nothing compares to u

As the clock ticks and moves slow,
The same thoughts swim around to let me know
You're hurt and it's me to blame,
It's not a game and it's never gonna feel the same
Everyday I was amazed by your ways,
You blew my heart set my mind ablaze
And now I crave each day each night,
It's not right that I miss every sound and sight
Poetic - how I've said it,
I'm not proud and I regret it
I hope someday I can see you come back to me,
How many ways can I offer my apology?
from The Mellow Pages [eriqq@mailexcite.com]