

Just A Little Love

Ant & Dec

I hear you sign when you're close to me,
Forgetting time endlessly
And darkness falls as you close your eyes,
The world still turns and I realize
When I lay beside you something deep inside
Brings each and every waking moment
A love for you, you know I just can't hide

Give a little love, just a little love and
You can change my world with just a little love
And open up your heart to a little love
And we can change our world with just a little love

If you believe in love like I want you to,
Then time will tell how it came true
When I lay beside you something deep inside
Brings each and every waking moment
A love for you, you know I just can't hide
