

Gravitron

Ant Saunders

Swinging mallets at the county fair
I'm hitting bells and winning bears
Sliding up the Gravitron
But I just keep on holding on
Some kind of weight
Trying to bring me down, down, down
Wanna talk bout how I feel
But don't know how to keep it real
Sugar coated funnel cake
Preparing for the mess I'll make
I'm so afraid
But I'm still sticking around, around

Oh cause what if we take a chance and maybe just enjoy the ride
Make it through the night, look at the sky, maybe the stars align
I just can't forget that first look in your eyes
You don't know it yet but I'm wasting your time
Oh, ooh

When I took you home you thought that I was in a hurry
I really didn't mean to get you worried
Missing my cues
It's gonna come back
To bite
Wondering if my heart is even in the ready
Even though it's still a bit unsteady
I been singing the blues
And I don't deserve you
I'm not right
Hey, hey

I said what if we take a chance and maybe just enjoy the ride
Make it through the night, look at the sky, maybe the stars align
I just can't forget that first look in your eyes
You don't know it yet but I'm wasting your time
Oh, ooh
(Spinning round)
Spinning round
(Spinning round the)
Spinning round
(Spinning round the gravitron)

I never want you to feel what I've felt
It's unusual for me to break hearts myself
Lonely night after lonely night
I convince myself that the timing's right

So before I try another night to finally make up my mind
Maybe you should just leaveme behind
I just can't forget that first look in your eyes
You don't know it yet but I'm wasting your time
Oh, ooh
(Spinning round)
Spinning round
(Spinning round the)
Spinning round
(Spinning round the gravitron)

Oh, ooh
(Spinning round)
Spinning round
(Spinning round the)
Spinning round
(Spinning round the gravitron)
The gravitron
