

Miles Per Hour

Ant Saunders

Damn, I really wish I could go back [x3]
To the day that we first met
Say something different than I said
Damn, I really wish I could go back [x3]
To the day that we first met
Say something different than I said

Feelin a little crazy, feelin a little shady
But I don't know
Guess it's all in my psych
I bet you never liked me
But for sure
I don't pursue what you want me to
I guess that I wasn't the girl for you

You never really know how much he lacks
Til he just don't call you back
And the thoughts come flooding in, I
Wanna text hello, wanna say hi
But I send that time after time you
Never respond like I did
What did I do, do

Damn, I really wish I could go back [x3]
To the day that we first met
Say something different than I said

Read the messages on my phone
They were from so long ago
In denial like I'm not alone (alone)
Can't erase the memories I know that I won't make again
Good things always come to an end
So unprepared for what's up next
And I wish that I could care less
Wish I still didn't try to reach out to you now and then

I still think of the things we can do together I still Smile while you're still in my dreams
I started again with another but I still Haven't ended with you it seems
This road I took might never end
I hope that this is the right way
Is it too late to turn around
I just hope it will be okay

Ahhh
Oh, oh, oh
Mmmh
Okay

Damn, I really wish I could go back [x3]
To the day that we first met
Say something different than I said
(Oh that's only once?)
