

Forget Your Love

Anth

I'm calling up my friends again
And telling them the text you sent
It's over
You said it's over

And I know it don't make no sense
And now I'm right back here again
With no closure
I need some closure

Maybe this just ain't what it seems
Maybe this is all a bad dream
Maybe this is my fault
And this what it cost
To wear my heart on my sleeve
So bury me deep down in the ground
6 feet under
Won't hear a sound
I don't know where you're at
If you're coming back
Or know if you miss me now

But if it's over
Then why is it so hard for me to forget your love?
I can't forget your love

And if it's over
Then why is it so hard for me to forget your love?
I can't forget your love
Your love

So tell me where you at now
I don't give a damn now
You ain't ever gon' find a man like me
I know that you're gone now
Don't know where you are now
Say you're moving on now
We gon' see

Tell me how you feel now
Can we keep it real now?
Tell me if you're still thinking 'bout me
Do you still think about me?
Yeah, yeah

I don't wanna hear about you at the club now
I don't wanna hear about that you're in love now
I don't wanna hear the stories of you and him now
Places that you've been now
Probably at his crib now
Tried to move on
But baby, you know it's hard now
YSL jacket to cover up all the scars now
Pretty little thing that's holding onto my arms now
That could've been us now
Damn

But if it's over
Then why is it so hard for me to forget your love?

And if it's over
Then why is it so hard for me to forget your love?
