

She Doesn't Sleep

Anthony Amorim

Hey if you don't mind
I think there's something wrong with a friend of mine
She's wasting away all her time
Looking through the past for something
You'll feel it coming
Her mind's a running

She sits across the room from an old TV
With just her mind she controls the screen
The things she'll show you are so obscene
Cause it makes her laugh when she makes you scream

She doesn't sleep
She's waging a war on the weak
She's opened the door to your dreams
And turned them into nightmares
A life she's gonna keep

She doesn't sleep, not a wink
Cause she knows what she needs
And you'll be incorporated if she likes what she sees
What she sees
She's counting the matches
Before she sets fire to the sheep
She doesn't sleep

Do you hear her
She's whispering secrets you'll never tell
Cause she'll turn your days into a living hell
There's no escaping
If you give her the chance

Can you feel her? Do you fear her?
All she wants is for you to be near her
There's no cause for alarm
She means you no harm
If you do just what she says

She doesn't sleep
She's waging a war on the weak
She's opened the door to your dreams
And turned them into nightmares
A life she's gonna keep

She doesn't sleep, not a wink
Cause she knows what she needs
And you'll be incorporated if she likes what she sees
What she sees
She's counting the matches
Before she sets fire to the sheep
She doesn't sleep

She did it again
She did it again
She did it again
She's kissing the devil
She's killing her friends

She did it again
She did it again
She did it she did it she did it
She'll do it again

She doesn't sleep
She's waging a war on the weak
She's opened the door to your dreams
And turned them into nightmares
A life she's gonna keep

She doesn't sleep, not a wink
Cause she knows what she needs
And you'll be incorporated if she likes what she sees
What she sees
She's counting the matches
Before she sets fire to the sheep
She doesn't sleep