

The Same

Anthony Brown & group therAPy

Thank you Lord

That You're the same yesterday, today, and forever more

Trails and tests, their eyes are new
And I wonder how I'll make it through
No shame by guilt and feeling lost
You display the power of the cross

Because You're the same yesterday, today, forever more
You're the same yesterday, today, forever more

That lonely walk upon the hill
Your destiny will be fulfill
Even though some would reject Your plan
Your blood can still save all of man

Because You're the same yesterday, today, forever more
Oh, You're the same yesterday, today, forever more

Before I ever knew my need, Jesus
You gave Your life in place of me
You took on death, hell, and the grave
And carried all my sins away
All praise be to the King of Kings
You are the Lord of everything
So merciful and full of grace
I will forever sing Your praise

You're the same yesterday, today, forever more
Oh, You're the same yesterday, today, forever more
You're the same yesterday, today, forever more
Oh, You're the same yesterday, today, forever more
Hallelujah today, forever more
Glory be to God, today, forever more
